Rev. GEO. S. CHADBOURNE, D.D.

SAYS:

"To the multitudes now suffering with Coughs and various Throat and Lung diseases, I feel it my duty to recommend INGALLS' Throat and Lung SPECIFIC as pre-eminently the best medicine for the throat and lungs within the compass of my knowledge. Its curative effects upon my friends have been truly surprising."

Rev. A. GOULD

SAYS:

"The benefit which has resulted from the use of your Throat and Lung SPECIFIC in my family impels me to furnish you my testimony in regard to its merits as a Specific for Throat and bronchial affections. I never saw its equal in a case of croup, it always gives relief at once. Several of my people have tried it in croup and colds, through my influence, and their testimony is regard to its value accords with my own. In fact, I have never heard anywhere any different testimony about it. There can be but one opinion among those who use it, and if any others are doubtful, let them try it, and they will doubt no longer."

THE LEGISLATURE HAS GONE HOME.

Farewells Said in the House and Senate Yesterday.

A Very Industrious Legislature as the Record Shows.

What It Has Done and What Some Other Legislatures Have Done.

[Special to the Press.]

AUGUSTA, March 13.—The two branches adjourned sine die this afternoon, after a session of 73 days, exactly the length of the session of two years ago. The closing exercises were more interesting than usual. The last two legislatures have adjourned very late at night and the last words have been spoken hurriedly and at the heels of the undignified horse play of the mock session. But the House had its mock session last night, and was ready this forenoon to adjourn decently and in order. In the House this forenoon the usual resolutions of thanks to the Speaker were presented by Mr. O'Brien of Thomaston, and seconded by Mr. Chadbourne of Biddeford, Mr. Taylor of Unity, Mr. Robie of Gorham, Mr. Poor of Sebago, Mr. Wiswell of Ellsworth, Mr. Talbot of East Machias, Mr. Stearns of Caribou, Mr. Looney of Portland, Mr. Hovey of Pittsfield, Mr. Grindle of Mount Desert, Mr. Pattengall of Pembroke, Mr. Turner of Somerville, Mr. Burnham of Hollis, Mr. Sprague of Dexter, Mr. Purington of Minot, Mr. Goodwin of Skowhegan, Mr. Manley of Augusta and Mr. Fogg of Portland. Resolutions thanking the clerk and assistant clerk were offered by Mr. Dickey of Fort Kent, and seconded by Mr. Tilton of Cape Elizabeth. Mr. Robie introduced a resolution thanking the chaplain. All of these resolutions were adopted by a rising vote. To the resolution thanking the Speaker, Mr. Dow replied:

"I can find no fitting words in which to express the thanks I would otherwise gladly offer for the resolution which you have just adopted, and your kind and flattering remarks in which I should prove to have some by those who have addressed you upon it. But if I have been able to realize to any degree your just expectations as to a presiding officer, I shall look back upon the hours which I have spent in this chair as among the most satisfactory of my life, and for your confidence which originally placed me here, and your forbearance and continued courtesy which has kept me here, believe me I am most profoundly grateful. A few weeks since, weeks which as we look back upon them seem almost too short to shorten into days, we met in this hall, most of us for the first time as strangers. Today we are to part as friends.

"It is not within the range of human probability that we shall ever all meet again, but believe me that whether my days shall be few or many, there will rise up before me from time to time, your faces as I have seen them here, while in my ears I shall hear again your voices familiarly recalling to my mind these scenes in which I have experienced from you all invariable courtesy and kindness. I have come to know you, I think, very intimately during the past 73 days. I express the earnest desires that spring from my heart, that fortune will attend each and all of you, and I bid you all Godspeed."

The benediction was pronounced by the venerable Father Randall at the close of the speeches.

The farewell exercises did not take place in the Senate until afternoon, and were somewhat interfered with by the absence of many Senators who had already taken the train for home. The resolution of thanks to the President was presented by Mr. Libby with a few appropriate remarks, and was seconded by Senators Haines, Heath and Walton. President Lord replied in a brief and appropriate speech. The Senate then went into executive session and at 3 o'clock they went in joint convention with the House in the act of final adjournment, which came at 4 p. m.

With the proceedings so fresh in the public mind, it may not be necessary to comment upon or review the acts of this legislature. The people of Maine know the things that it has done and the things that it has not done. It has certainly been a very industrious legislature, as every one will agree. Hon. S. J. Chadbourne, Deputy Secretary of State, shows in his office at the Capitol, a huge roll of laws passed at this session, which is larger in bulk than the bundle of the laws of any other legislature of which he remembers in his long experience as a public officer. The wisdom of laws we do not undertake to measure by their bulk this legislature had been a very wise assemblage. But the number and bulk of the laws are some indications of the industry if not of the wisdom of the assemblage and by this test the late assemblage may fairly claim the fame of industry. It has passed 185 acts of a public nature, 269 of a private or special nature, and 117 resolves. It is interesting to go back nearly twenty years and compare the work of this legislature, in respect of the number of its acts and resolves with its predecessors. Mr. Abel D. Russell, of the Secretary of State's office furnishes the following table:

	Public Acts.	Private Acts.	Resolves.
1872	87	191	99
1873	67	210	109
1874	119	230	119
1875	57	197	106
1876	91	122	100
1877	91	85	89
1878	79	99	99
1879	88	99	97
1880	82	105	60
1881	98	163	66
1883 (Biennial)	151	199	97
1885 "	126	164	86
1887 "	149	286	123
1889	165	269	125

Compare the huge array of laws, in which the number of private and special acts testifies to the pressure of the interests which are flourishing, because Maine is becoming a flourishing State, with the few enactments of the legislators who embarked in the newly launched ship of State for the first two years of its voyage. Those were the days of small things, if we may judge of the number of the laws made; though perhaps he who compares the quality of the work done then and now might incline to the belief that from the standpoint of salutary conservatism and dignity the days of the legislatures of the first decade were by no means the days of small things. This is the table of the number of enactments of the legislature of the first ten years, the public and private acts being separated only for the first three years:

	Private.	Public.	Resolves.
1820	13	19	..
1821	60	174	76
1822	67	26	59
1823	110		67
1824	100		81
1825	108		78
1826	102		69
1827	83		51
1828	117		64
1829	106		58
1830	86		54

From this moderate list we come down to this year of grace when the legislature has done the great work of passing the acts and resolves entitled as follows:

A NAVAL OFFICER TALKS OF SAMOA.

He Thinks that Official Dispatches Have Been Withheld.

And Believes There Has Been Serious Trouble in Samoa.

Mr. Walker Blaine To Be His Father's Confidential Adviser.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—An interesting interview with a naval officer is given by "The Star."

"My information is," says this officer "that the last official dispatches left Samoa about the last of January and reached 'Frisco about February 15 or 16. These dispatches were never transmitted to the Senate, which was looking for so much light on the vexed question only two weeks before. Other dispatches had been before promptly sent to the Senate, and the query is natural: Why were not these last as promptly transmitted?"

"Why were they not so transmitted, do you think?" asked the reporter.

"Well, I think that the milk lies in the fact that Bayard maintained that the whole problem could be solved in a peaceful way. Germany had made overtures to this government to have a convention in Berlin, where the wrecked convention of Washington could be healed. Bayard thought that by accepting Germany's proposition he had been successful as a diplomat. But at the same time he dismissed Consul General Sewall for swearing to the true condition of affairs in Samoa. And don't you see, it would not appear very well for him to lay before the Senate (particularly as those certain dispatches had not been called for) matters which would show a still further aggression on the part of the Germans.

"These matters, or rather, serious wrongs," he continued, "have been permitted to drag along month after month, and the departments seem to be satisfied that the American officials 'protested.' Again, they knew we had only one ancient vessel (she and the Ark would make a good pair) while the Germans had three well manned and equipped modern built vessels.

"Suppose that these reports as to the Nipsic should prove to have some foundation?"

"If the Germans have fired on unprotected men, women and children and destroyed or injured American life and property, then I believe there would be a hot time in the old battery on the Germans' ship, determined to let the consequences be what they may. I know the man. My own idea is, and I know that great consideration is paid to my opinion in the Pacific for many years, that there has been very serious trouble of some kind, all of which we may learn in 10 days. If anything has happened the Nipsic, there is no possible way for our people to communicate only by a small boat, which might be chartered to go from Apia to Tutuila—some miles away—a stopping-place for the California steamers. All other modes of conveyance are in the hands of the Germans. So it would not surprise me if we should have no news for just a few days, and perhaps longer. Yet the steamer next due in 'Frisco, say on Saturday next, may bear some intelligence. If, however, the German iron-clads now on their way to Samoa reach there safely, then they will bid defiance to our whole feeble, disjointed and scattered navy. While our people sleep on soft cushions, the Germans are building up the weeds give the matter his immediate attention. The disgraceful neglect of the American seal fishery interests in Alaskan waters, under the last administration, is not likely to be continued under the present.

OVER 10,000 IDLE.

The State Arbitrators Trying to Settle Fall River Difficulties.

FALL RIVER, Mass., March 13.—The third day of the great weavers' strike shows further gains in the ranks of the strikers. This morning a careful canvass showed less than 500 looms running at 11 mills. The weave rooms of 23 corporations are entirely shut down and very few of the 500 looms running were operated by weavers. Most were run by fixers and relatives of the overseers. The number of loom fixers willing to run looms is less than yesterday in spite of the fact that many of them were discharged for refusing to do it. The strike is practically complete. King Phillip's, the Granite and American linen mills shut down completely today, throwing out over 2000 other help in addition to the weavers. This brings the number out of work to over 10,000.

Richard P. Barry of the State board of arbitration, was here this afternoon and had a long conference with the weavers' executive committee. He said the board could not take any action unless there was something to arbitrate and both sides presented a statement of grievances. He advised the strikers to return to work, pending a settlement of the difficulty. The weavers' committee expressed disinclination to return to work unless some concession was made by the manufacturers. They held that they were fairly entitled to an advance as the margin of profit on cloth was greater now than in 1883, when they received 21 cents a cut. After a long discussion every member of the weavers' executive committee signed an agreement to meet a committee from the manufacturers in the presence of the State board of arbitration for the purpose mediation looking to a satisfactory settlement of existing difficulties. Tomorrow the full board of arbitration will be here and endeavor to arrange a conference between the weavers and manufacturers. If they succeed it will be regarded as a point gained for the weavers. The manufacturers have steadily refused a request from them for a conference. Whether the manufacturers will agree to it cannot be definitely known until morning. There is no indication of weakening on either side. The strikers are very orderly.

The Spinners' Union held its monthly meeting tonight, but took no action on the strike. Many of the spinners think that their union should strike, claiming that as long as the spinners work the mills will run and make yarn for which there is a great demand and profitable market.

THE REFUNDING BILL.

Full Text of a Most Important Law.

[Special to the Press.]

AUGUSTA, March 13.—The most important act of the legislature of this session is without doubt the refunding of the public debt. It involves millions of money and the credit of the state for the next forty years. When the first refunding bill was reported from the finance committee Senator Heath, as will be remembered, suggested several important amendments, most of which were not adopted by the finance committee. But after the act had passed the counsel employed by brokers who expected to bid for the bonds, confirmed the objections which had been raised by Mr. Heath. Then the work of drawing a new bill devolved upon Senator Heath, who with the Attorney General Littlefield drew the measure which with some valuable suggestions made by Senator Libby and Judge Wiswell of the House has become the law. The passage of the new bill last night has probably saved the State an extra session of the legislature and considerable financial trouble. This is the full text of the bill:

An act to provide for the refunding of the public debt and to repeal an act entitled "An act to provide for the refunding of the public debt," approved February twenty-six, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in Legislature assembled, as follows:

Section 1. An act entitled, "An act to provide for the refunding of the public debt," approved February twenty-six, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, is hereby repealed.

Section 2. For the purpose of renewing and extending the bonded indebtedness of this State which matures June first and October first, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, and of paying the temporary loan authorized by section six of this act, the treasurer of State is hereby authorized to issue new bonds in sums of not less than one thousand dollars each with coupons attached for the payment of the interest, at the rate of three per cent per annum, payable semi annually, both principal and interest payable at the option of the treasury of Maine; or registered bonds for the whole or any part thereof, transferable by assignment in amounts of not less than one thousand dollars each, with interest at the rate of three per cent, per annum, payable semi-annually, both principal and interest payable at the treasury of Maine. If the bonds so issued, fifty thousand dollars shall be payable per annum, for twelve years, beginning with the year eighteen hundred and ninety; seventy thousand per annum for ten years, beginning with the year nineteen hundred and two; seventy-eight thousand dollars per annum, for ten years, beginning with the year nineteen hundred and twelve; and all additional bonds that may be required for the purposes aforesaid shall be payable in eight equal annual payments, beginning with the year nineteen hundred and twenty-two. No bonds shall be issued in excess of the amount required for the purposes aforesaid. Each bond so issued shall be signed by the treasurer, countersigned by the Governor, and attested by the secretary of state and the seal of the State. The treasurer may sign said coupons or his name may be engraved thereon.

Section 3—The treasurer of State, with the approval of the Governor, in writing, is hereby authorized to issue the provisional scrip of this State, to exchange all or any of the bonds authorized by section two of this act, for an equal amount of the bonds of the State, maturing as aforesaid, now outstanding, on such terms as in his judgment and in the opinion of the Governor shall be advantageous to the State, and at a valuation not less than the highest price received for bonds sold under this act.

Section 4.—So many of the bonds authorized by this act as may be issued to renew and extend the bonded indebtedness maturing June first, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, shall be dated and bear interest from June first, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine. All other bonds authorized by this act shall be dated and bear interest from October first, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine.

Section 5—The treasurer, with the approval of the Governor, in writing, shall have power to sell the bonds herein authorized, and to do all such acts and to make all such contracts, and to do all such things as may be necessary, subject to the provisions of this act, and to receive the proceeds of the same, or any part thereof, at the highest rate of premium, or, he may reject any or all of such proposals for the sale of said bonds, if in the judgment of the State, it can use all or any of the proposals are rejected, the treasurer, with the approval aforesaid, may negotiate such loans as may be necessary, subject to the aforesaid conditions, and with the approval aforesaid, sell or exchange, assessment bonds, or securities,

THE PRESS.

THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 14.

We do not read anonymous letters and communications. The name and address of the writer are in all cases indispensable, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

We cannot undertake to return or preserve communications that are not used.

The result of the vote on the prohibitory amendment is not very assuring to the friends of a similar amendment now before the people of Massachusetts.

The extension of the capitol will remedy a part, and a very small part of the difficulty. The next legislature will have to move an appropriation to extend Augusta hotels and Augusta itself.

The legislature made a good record up to the time that logrolling set in. Then came some legislation that will not stand the test of time, and which in the future the gentlemen who helped frame it will be sorry for.

This is the first legislative session for many years in which the liquor law has not been tinkered. And if the House had had its way with the absurd apothecary bill this would have formed no exception.

The speech of Senator Libby does not meet the entire approval of the Kennebec Journal. Nevertheless the speech was one of the ablest of the session, and had the gentlemen to whom it was addressed not been tightly tied up its arguments would have defeated the capitol bill.

The Massachusetts legislature has just defeated woman suffrage by a large majority, the "real reason," according to the Boston Advertiser, "being clearly that the members believe that the great bulk of women in the State do not desire any further extension of the ballot." The suffragists made a small gain over last year's vote.

A ballot reform bill is before the legislature of Connecticut, and the objections to it have a very familiar sound. It is said, just as it was in Maine, that the new system will greatly increase the cost of elections to country towns. But the Post, the leading evening Republican paper of Hartford, shows that even if the expenses were increased several hundred per cent they would not be felt by the people, for they are now almost nothing. The Post is earnestly supporting the bill.

The New York Sun has issued a diagnosis of the disease of the Democratic party and prescribed a remedy. The disease is too much revenue reform. The cure is to go back to protection. "As long," says Mr. Dana, "as we persist in our blunders we must expect our disaster to be repeated. If there is any one fact which stands out clearly amid the wreck and ruin that have been wrought, it is that the American people mean to adhere to the protective tariff, and to sweep from existence the entire internal revenue system. The one must stay and the other must go. It is folly to deny that this purpose is fixed in the American mind; and if the Democratic party is ever to regain power, it must return to its old doctrines and adjust its platforms and its leadership in harmony with the manifest will of the masses."

While the hospital at Lewiston was by no means a necessity, and while no great amount of suffering will result from the refusal of the House to build one, it is fair to say that the object was much more worthy than a number for which the legislature appropriated larger sums. The Madawaska claim is an instance in point. The legislator that called this appropriation a steal was perhaps dealing in hyperbole, but that it was a very improper appropriation was clearly shown by Mr. Fogg on the floor of the House in a speech that was unanswered and unanswerable. There was no good reason under the sun why the men who voted with the "combine" in favor of those claims should have refused to vote for the Lewiston hospital, and to do so was basely ungrateful, for the Androscoggin members both in the House and Senate kept faith scrupulously with the "combine," voting with it when their chances of getting the hospital appropriation half practically disappeared. We sympathize with our Androscoggin brethren. Next time they should look out sharper and get a vote on their bill early.

Prohibition in New Hampshire.

Constitutional prohibition has been defeated in New Hampshire by a large majority. Not only did the cities declare against it, which was expected, but the country towns also, which was not expected. The result is a surprise all round, for though the friends of the amendment were not very sanguine of its adoption because a two-thirds vote was required, they expected a majority in their favor, while on the other hand, its opponents would have considered that they had done well had they polled half the vote. The defeat of the amendment is not tantamount to a declaration by the people of New Hampshire against the policy of prohibition, though anti-prohibitionists will doubtless seek to put that construction upon it; for for there are several objections to putting prohibition into the constitution not touching the merits of the policy, and these operated to a considerable extent to diminish the affirmative vote. It will probably be found, too, when the whole vote is in that there was a large number of stay at homes, who did not take sufficient interest in the subject to go to the polls. Not that they were opposed to prohibition, but because they did not feel that the constitutional amendment would have very much effect one way or the other. That was Maine's experience. Only 94,594 votes were thrown for and against the prohibitory amendment in this State, though the total vote for governor thrown at the same time was 142,187. That is, 48,000 people in Maine did not feel sufficient interest in the amendment to vote either way, even after they had come to the polls.

It is a question though whether the friends of prohibition in New Hampshire did not make a mistake in submitting their policy in this way to the people, for though the defeat of the amendment is not necessarily equivalent to the rejection of prohibition, it can be very plausibly argued that such is the case. The opponents of the existing prohibitory law will be in a better position to attack it than they have ever been before. They can now claim with some show of reason that the people are opposed to it, or indifferent about it. Legislation in most of our communities in regard to the liquor traffic is in advance of the average sentiment. Friends of reform measures that are already upon the statute book should not hurry, therefore, to submit them to the test of a popular vote.

CURRENT COMMENT.

NO MISTAKE.

[Boston Traveller.]

It is current that the ample brow of Congressman Reed of Maine has often been mistaken for the dome of the capitol. It would be no mistake to make the brilliant member speaker of the House. Should Congressman Reed get there he will handle the gavel in a manner to do credit to the capitol, done and all.

NOTES BY THE WAY.

New Hampshire has voted agains' constitutional prohibition. Rum did it.

The legislature has killed the dog bill. Dogmas are hard to get rid of by legislation.

The number of new spring hats seen on our streets since March 4th indicates that something happened about that time.

People heretofore sceptical in the matter of sudden conversions will have their doubts removed by examining the record of many of our legislators on the question about removing the State capital.

A lady of our city, commenting on the fact that Mrs. Harrison threw a handkerchief over her bonnet while exposed to the storm at the inauguration, observed "she is evidently a protectionist." Not bad that.

The Vicar-General of Boston Misquoted.

To the Editor of the Press:

In a communication in your issue of the paper for the 10th instant, N. T. Whitaker, D. D., attributes to Very Rev. William Byrne, D. D., V. G., of the Boston Archdiocese, the following:

"The Vicar-General of Boston, in his public lecture, March 12th, 1879, after quoting from the Catholic Telegraph of Cincinnati, 'It will be a glorious day for the Catholics in this country when under the blows of justice and morality, our school system will be shivered to pieces,' added, 'Rome has never favored the education of masses. In her relation to them she has adhered to her own proverb. 'Ignorance is the mother of devotion.'"

I am authorized by the Vicar-General of Boston to say in the columns of the PRESS that he never used the words, neither did he at any time hold the opinion expressed therein. Respectfully,

D. O'C. O'DONOGHUE.

PORTLAND, March 12, 1889.

ITEMS FOR HORSEMEN.

The trustees of the State Agricultural Society have just fully decided in regard to the colt stakes to be trotted at the State Fair at Lewiston, September 10-13. The stakes have been made much larger that last year, which was a trial, but which drew out the largest and finest field of colts ever seen in Maine.

The following is a summary of the stakes etc.: Yearlings, $10; two years old, $20; three years old, $25; four years old, $30. Usual conditions. Entries close and first payment, 20 per cent, April 10. In addition the society adds consolation purses of $45 for yearlings, $60 for two years old, $75 for three years old, $90 for four years old, to be divided among the non-winners. And further they offer a series of silver cups to the colts in each class which make the best mile or half mile, single dash, against time. These stakes and inducements can hardly fail to bring together a string of colts of which the old Maine State may be well proud.

MAINE TOWNS.

Cumberland Mills.

It is expected that at least 200 of the people of Cumberland Mills will partake of an oyster supper tonight, to be given at the church parlor by the following named gentlemen: J. E. Warren, E. M. Ayer, C. W. Mace, S. A. Cordwell, W. H. Halsten and F. A. Cloudman. Oyster stew, cake and coffee will be served from 5 to 7 o'clock.

East Raymond.

People are using wheels at present, the sleighing is nearly gone, and the caw of the crow plainly indicates that spring is at hand.

Tramps seem to evade this town. The selectmen were called upon to lodge only two last year.

The Juvenile Temperance Club holds an entertainment here on the eve of the 20th, consisting of songs, tableaux, dialogues, recitations, etc. Admission will be five cents, to be used to purchase books for the club.

Farmers predict a small crop of hay the coming summer on account of so little snow the past winter.

Fryeburg.

The weather is fine and the snow is disappearing fast. The farmers have commenced sugar-making, the outlook is not favorable for a large business.

Rev. R. H. Davis of North Conway, N. H., addressed the Temperance Association at their last meeting a few days ago.

Dr. W. C. Towle, our worthy physician, is at present very much engaged. In addition to his own large practice, he has now the care of the patients of Dr. Isaac Chandler of Lovel. The latter physician and his wife are both very ill of pneumonia. There are also other cases of the same disease in that town.

Mr. R. F. Wormwood, though doing well, seems likely to be confined to the house for some time from the effects of his late accident

The C. L. S. C. will meet on Monday evening with Rev. B. N. Stone. The principal part of the programme will relate to the science of zoology.

The Pequawkets will meet on Tuesday evening with Miss H. A. Pike. The subject of the programme will be Edgar Poe and his writings. It is expected that Mr. E. S. Osgood of Portland will be present and give due honor to the memory of his favorite poet.

Los Angeles.

A letter from Los Angeles speaks as follows of that place:

"The city has about 80,000 people (they claim this) but it is poverty stricken. Recently the list of delinquent real estate taxpayers was published. It filled 17 columns of the newspaper and contained 2,343 names.

Building still continues, but the builders (workmen) are working for starvation wages. The owners are building on money borrowed at ruinous interest, 10 to 24 per cent. The very few who have money are loaning it at 2 per cent. per month. A few days ago there was a large mass meeting of the unemployed. A free soup house is to be established, and this is a summer climate. There are several jobbing houses but only three wholesale houses of any kind in the city, and two of them are trying to freeze out the third. From top to bottom the people are without money.

There is building enough here for ten years to come. Extremely handsome architecture too, but much of it hastily done and flimsy in execution.

The hope of the landowners here is unbounded and others catch it, but I am sure it is a castle in the air for years to come.

A Word About Catarrh.

"It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful multi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, trammelling the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membranous lining and envelopes the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviatives are simply procrastinated sufferings, leading to a fatal termination. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, by Inhalation and by Internal administration, has never failed; even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been recovered, and the disease thoroughly driven out."

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, neatly wrapped in one package, with full directions; price, $1.00.

THE FAMOUS ORIENTAL COFFEE!

GEO. C. SHAW & CO., Sole Agents for Portland.

ORIENTAL MALE BERRY JAVA.

Male Berry is the little round berry, somewhat like a small bean, which may be seen in every variety of Coffee, in the proportion of about one to twenty of the ordinary flat kernels. It contains much more of the strength and aroma, and also all the characteristics of its kind in an increased degree. In March, 1868, under the name of "Male Berry Java," was introduced to this country the first lot ever seen of what has since proved to be the most famous coffee in the world. This came from the finest and most highly cultivated private plantation in Java, where it was picked out by hand from the finest field-ripened berries. Its slight additional cost is more than compensated by its perfect flavor and strength. The reputation of these superior drinking qualities has caused many importers and hundreds of dealers everywhere to advertise—and always as one of their best coffees—the round berries separated by machinery, at an expense of a quarter of a cent per pound, from cheap coffees, as genuine "Male Berry Java," equal to the Oriental hand-picked goods. When picked by hand, only the perfect berries are selected, while the machine takes out all the round ones, good and bad. These imitation "Male Berries" are not of any of the fine varities, and are generally inferior to much cheaper regular coffee. The difference in taste and every valuable drinking property between our Oriental Male Berry Java and the best of the cheap imitations is as wide as can be found between the choicest dairy lump butter and Oleo.

OLD GOVERNMENT JAVA.

This coffee is the product of the justly celebrated Private Plantations in Java which from great natural advantages, care in cultivating the plant and methods of curing the berry, produce coffee whose really exquisite flavor and great strength have obtained for the name "Java" a World Wide Reputation.

The great part of the coffee sold as "Java" comes from the uncultivated and newer plantations of Central America, and varies from the unobjectionable to the very poor. While it is impossible for all to enjoy the best, yet many enjoy their "morning cup" sufficiently to appreciate the best coffee obtainable, and are glad to pay the slight additional cost if only sure of getting the really finer coffee which they pay for. We invite you to compare the rich, aromatic flavor of these famous coffees with the various grades of so-called Javas sold everywhere.

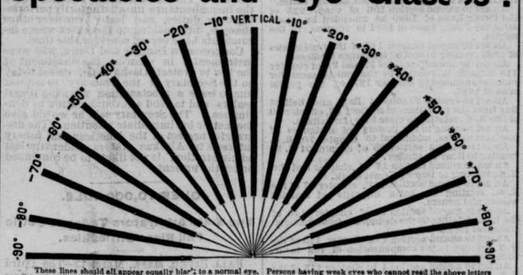
Spectacles and Eye Glasses!



These lines should all appear equally blue; to a normal eye. Persons having weak eyes who cannot read the above letters and to whom the lines do not appear equally black at five or ten feet, have a visual imperfection which common spectacles will not improve. They must have special lenses ground to correct the deformity of their cornea. This defect is called ASTIGMATISM. THIS PRINT should be read with ease at ten inches and is a test for NEAR VISION.

We have a large assortment and are prepared to adjust the same upon scientific principles. We use NACHET'S TRIAL CASE, together with the OPTHALMOSCOPIC TEST LENSE, combining the best methods known for detecting all optical defects of the eye and determining the cases needed for their correction.

THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 14.

THE SONG OF DAY.

The ashen light grows slowly white
And dimmer wears the dark away;
The shrinking stars on fainting bars
Sink in the dawning of the day.

Now redder tend and thinner bend
The touching tints along the sky,
As clearer burn and brighter turn
The tingeing clouds that wakening lie.

And as they pass and darting glass
Their blending lights upon the way,
The glory spreads o'er rippling threads
And rolls and flashes through the bay.

Once more the world today has whirled
Upon its slow and constant race;
Once more the rhyme of onward time
Swings with its sure and measured pace.

And now once more, as oft before
The rising world awakes from sleep,
And yet again its race of men
Their progress and their place shall keep.

Once more the sun his course shall run
Throughout the countries of the earth;
And nations feel with new-born zeal
His kindly light and joy and mirth.

From Afric's strand and Europe's land,
He takes again his circling way:
His light shall roll from pole to pole,
And night shall turn once more to day.

And all shall wake and quickly take
Their tasks within the busy morn;
For soon the light shall fall to night
And soon a day fore'er be gone.

'Twas but a day, they tried away,
Within the living present's hour;
'Twas but a night, they left the light,
And sought once more sweet slumber's bower.

There did they lie, from tongue and eye,
Each in his still and silent home:
Each with his heart, then dwelt apart,
And from all others was alone.

Then did they sleep and silence keep,—
A plodding world at rest and still:
How great the change from Day's full range,
That makes their night one life,—one will!

But now 'tis morn—the night has gone
That threw around its soothing spell,
And gone their rest from lives opprest
With care and trouble each may tell.

And now they rise, as light the skies—
Then sleep, their slumber now o'er
And now they move to further prove
Their mighty purpose—yet once more.

So each shall bear his part, his share
In that great whole that on doth pass,
And through the day shall take his way
Amid the throng and mingling mass.

And when Eve's star shall spark afar
And herald up the heavenly host;
The day shall fast have joined the past,
And silent Night shall take her post.

WIT AND WISDOM.

First Stranger (in the far West)—Be you one of us?

Second Stranger (with dignity)—I do not know what you mean by "one of us." I am President of the International Aggregated Trusts to Force Up the Price of the Necessaries of Life.

First Stranger—Give us your hand, pard. I'm a train robber.

STOOD THE TEST.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS have successfully stood the test of over thirty years' use by the public; their virtues have never been equalled by the unscrupulous imitators who have sought to trade upon the reputation of ALLCOCK'S by making plasters with holes in them, and claiming them to be "just as good as ALLCOCK'S."

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS stand today indorsed by not only the highest medical authorities, but by millions of grateful patients who have proved their efficacy as a household remedy.

A minister's little daughter, who had been to church for the first time and heard her father preach, was questioned by him on reaching home as to how she liked his sermon. There was an embarrassed silence. Then the little maid, tired out with the long strain of "being good," made answer with a long-drawn breath of patient resignation:

"You preached awful long, papa, but I heared it."—Harper's Young People.

The happy woman who was cured of chronic headache by using Salvation Oil is enthusiastic.

Even if we are not smart, we know what to do when troubled with a cough or cold. We take 25 cents and buy a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Where Larders are Full:

Young Tramp—Let's break into the kitchen of that big houseboughjt and git something to eat.

Old Tramp—We wouldn't find much there. Them folks jints on one meal. Git into the kitchen of steady goin' old fashioned folks if yer wants ter strike a banquet. Them's the kind.—New York Weekly.

A New Departure

from ordinary business methods is made by the manufacturers of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in guaranteeing this world-famed remedy to cure all diseases arising from derangements of liver or stomach, as indigestion, or dyspepsia, biliousness or "liver complaint," or from impure blood, as boils, blotches, pimples, eruptions, scalp disease, salt-rheum scrofulous sores and swellings, and kindred ailments. Money paid for "Discovery" promptly returned if, on fair trial, it don't cure.

Don't hawk, hawk, blow, spit and disgust everybody with your offensive breath, but use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and end it.

Wife of official preparing for reception, to little son—Johnny, you must keep out from under foot. Go with your nurse now up stairs. There's a good little boy.

Johnny—Mamma, what's the matter wiv you? Is this your deception day?

Mother—Yes, my dear; you are using more appropriate language than you have any idea of.—Washington Post.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Brown—I congratulate you, old man! I saw by the papers that the safe in your store had been broken into, but as it contained only twenty-seven cents, the burglars had their work for nothing. Lucky, eh?

White—Lucky? Why, hang it, man, I'm mortified half to death! What sort of an advertisement do you suppose that report is going to be for my business?

Brown. Why, to be sure. I didn't think of it in that light.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," so they all say, and their husbands say so too!

Carpet Dealer—Yes, madam; that is a fine stair carpet, and veryldurable.

Woman—Will it last well?

Dealer—Madam, fourteen years ago I sold a piece of that carpet to a woman and she used it ten years steady.

Woman—Then did she throw it away, or what became of it?

Dealer—No, madam, she did not throw it away; by no means. For the last four years her boy has worn it for everyday pants. You can't find anything to wear better.

Woman—I think I won't take it. It wears too well.

I have been a great sufferer from dry catarrh for many years, and I tried many remedies which helped me, but I had none which did me so much benefit as Ely's Cream Balm. It completely cured me.—M. J. Lally, 39 Woodward Ave., Boston Highlands, Mass.

I suffered from acute inflammation in my nose and head—for a week at a time I could not see. I used Ely's Cream Balm and in a few days I was cured. It is wonderful how quick it helped me.—Mrs. Georgie S. Judson, Hartford, Conn.

Apply Balm into each nostril. Price 50 cents.

They were on their way home from the theatre one night.

"We had a very interesting discussion last evening at the debating club," remarked George. "The subject was "What shall we do with our raw material?"

"I know very little about matters of that sort, George," returned the girl, timidly, "but I think some of our raw material should be disposed of on the ball shell."

Swept by the Tide of Popularity

To the topmost pinnacle of success, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters stands a shining proof of what genuine merit, backed by the living force of proven facts, can attain. The North and South American continents, Europe, Australia, the West Indies, Guatemala and Mexico have all contributed wide patronage and testimony of the most favorable kind—but unsolicited—to swell the reputation of this sterling remedy. Among the maladies for which the most convincing public and professional testimony proves that it is a benign curative, are chills and fever, billious remittent, dumb ague, ague cake, dyspepsia, liver complaint, nervousness, debility, kidney and bladder complaints. It mitigates the infirmities of age, hastens convalescence, has a tendency to prevent ill consequences from exposure and exhaustion. Persons of sedentary habits and laborious occupations will find it an ever useful tonic.

Patrick—What that lettering say on the new banner?

Mike—That, Patrick? Why, that is the motto for our new workingmen's union: "Labor Omnia Vincet."

Patrick—It is haythenish lingr, but I suppose the Ottallans is gittin' so thick now that we must be doin' somethin' fer to coax 'em into our organizations.

A woman who is weak, nervous and sleepless, and who has cold hands and feet can not feel and act like a well person. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness and give strength and rest.

Theory and Practice:

Young Wife—Are you the editress of the Household Department in the Woman's Companion?

Mrs. De Letter—Yes; I have had exclusive charge for 10 years.

Y. W.—I am glad we are neighbors. You won't object if I run in once in a while for a little help about cooking, will you?

Mrs. De L.—No, indeed. Come whenever you like, after next week. My cook is away temporarily, and my husband and I are taking our meals at a restaurant.

Do You Ask

"What will he do with it?" Well, that depends. If it is something he wants he will try to keep it; but if it is a cold, he will certainly break it up with a few doses of Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

REVIEW OF PORTLAND WHOLESALE MARKET

FOR THE WEEK ENDING Mch. 13.

In many departments some improvement is reported, and as a rule trade is satisfactory, with but few changes to note in quotations. Special telegrams to Bradstreet's, while reporting very generally improving weather, do not record an increased movement in the volume of business, except at Kansas City, Louisville, St. Joseph and Chicago, where dry goods and groceries and boots and shoes and lumber have been in better demand.

The Flour market is quiet with prices still in buyers' favor. Corn and Oats have been steady and closed to day a little firmer. Provisions are decidedly stronger and the late advance on Pork and Lard is fully sustained. Sugar has been very steady with an increased demand and firmer, but unchanged. Dry Fish has been quite active throughout the week; large Bank Codfish lower. Mackerel about out of the market. Coffee is firm and all grades are ⅛ to 1c higher with Rio selling at 20@25c. Molasses is firmly held; common 1@1½c better; choice and fancy stock unchanged. Rice steady and firm. Spices unchanged, except Nutmegs, which have advanced 3 to 4c. Teas steadily held at previous figures. Tobacco quiet. The market for Fresh Beef is fairly active, with an easier tendency to prices; sides are quoted at 5½@7c ℔ lb, hind quarters 7½@9½c, fore qtrs 4½@5½c, rounds with flanks 6@6½c, rumps 10@12c, loins 11@14c, rump loins 9@12c, chucks 5@5½c, short ribs 10@12c, backs 5½@6½c, rattles at 4@4½c; mutton 8@9c; lambs at 10@11c, round hogs 6½@7c. Hay has been in light receipt and is selling at $16@$18 ℔ ton for loose. Turpentine higher at 57@64c. Camphor 2@3c better.

Bath to Portland.

A paper is being circulated in Bath by Franklin B. Sprague, Esq., in the interest of that Portland and Augusta steamboat line which has been noted for so long. Bath business men look with a good deal of favor on the project and it really looks as if it would go through. The capital of the company is to be $50,000, and is being sold at $100 per share. Portland has already taken 100 shares and expects to make up a total of $16,000. P. O. Vickery is the strongest supporter of the line in Augusta and feels confident that $15,000 will be taken in his section before the canvassing is completed. Bath is reckoned good for $10,000 and the other places along the route which would naturally have an interest in such a scheme are reckoned good food for the balance. The boat to go on the route is now in Norfolk, Va. It is a craft of 600 tons, only two years old and very fast. She is expected to make one round trip per day, stopping at Harpswell, Small Point and Popham, making connections at Bath with the Boothbay boats and touching at points along the river.

Annual Tea Meeting.

Last night the annual tea meeting of the Chestnut street auxiliary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society was held at the parsonage 219 Cumberland street. 200 persons were present and the event was one of unalloyed enjoyment. A delightful entertainment was given by Mr. Dr. Files, Mrs. Chas. Day, Mrs. Warren Cole, Miss Annie Holden, who sang solos; Mrs. Goss and and Miss Cora Butler who rendered piano duets, and twenty children who sang and spoke various pleasing selections. This auxiliary to the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society is doing a good work. They are supporting a Bible woman in India, educating a child in Seoul, Corea; and aiding in educating a lady for the foreign missionary work in Philadelphia. They have received for membership fees during the year $207, last night a collection of $7 was taken and the mite boxes were opened and found to contain $19. Dr. Whitaker gave notice at the close of the business meeting of the 20th anniversary celebration of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society to be held in the Chestnut street church on the 28th inst. $50 was received from Mrs. James Noyes as an offering for the society.

Suicide.

A despatch from El Paso, Texas, says W. H. Marshall of Maine committed suicide by taking morphine at the Laclede House, in that city, on Sunday. He left the following note on the dressing-case in his room: "My name is W. H. Marshall; I belong to Hermon Lodge, 32, of Masons, of Gardiner, Me. Mrs. A. C. Leonard of Charlestown, Mass. is my sister."

THE M'ALL MISSION.

Annual Meeting of the Portland Branch Yesterday.

Interesting Address on the Carnots by Mr. Bracq.

The second annual meeting of the Portland McAll Auxiliary, was held in State street chapel yesterday afternoon. The following was the order of exercises:

Scripture reading.....Rev. Mr. Bayley
Prayer.....Rev. Mr. Lowden
Reports of Treasurer and Secretaries.....
.....Rev. Mr. Bayley

The Auxiliary has held eight meetings during the year and increased in membership. $180.31 have been contributed to the work in France.

Mr. Bayley, after a few general remarks on mission work, introduced Rev. J. C. Bracq, who spoke for one hour on France and the McAll Mission. He said:

In speaking of the religious life of France, two immense powers are at work Catholicism and Infidelity. In the years gone by the Roman church controlled France wholly. There was no religious liberty. Now the church has so lost its power over the minds of the people that it is hard to find young men who are willing to become priests. They say to the church: "You must mend or end." The massacre of St. Bartholomew is responsible for more infidelity than anything else. Nine out of twenty works translated into French from English are infidel in character. This force has its literature, its press, its intellect; it breaks down creeds, but cannot assimilate its followers.

The French should receive the gospel because they are ready and are asking for it. Except Japan and China, there are no men so eager to listen to the simple truth of evangelistic preaching. Two-thirds of the attendants at McAll meetings are men.

Seventeen years ago Mr. McAll began his work, knowing then only two sentences in French. Then there was no bright outlook, not even the sympathy of co-laborers or friends; all was discouraging. He had no method; God led him to discover one. France had no good hymnal, but Mr. McAll made 500 selections from American and English works. There is more power in singing 1000 hymns than in the same number of sermons. There are now 110,000 copies of this hymnal used in France. In place of discouragement, has come a great hope born of success. There are 250 laborers in this mission work, started by Mr. and Mrs. McAll; from seven to eight thousand children go twice a week to service held for them. There are 41 stations in Paris alone, and 124 in all France. Mr. Bracq cited instances of great gratitude shown by those who had been helped by the mission. In conclusion he said, "As the father of your country once said of France, 'Tell them to do it now or never,' so France says to you in their work of evangelization. All the mission stations will be kept open in Paris this summer, and two halls are to be opened at the Exposition. If you come to Paris and offer your services in this mission work we will give you two things—all the work you can possibly do and no pay.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were these:

President—Mrs. Ellen Carpenter.
Corresponding Secretary—Miss E. Brown.
Recording Secretary—Miss Ellen H. True.
Treasurer—Miss Ernestine Libby.
Vice Presidents—Congregationalist, Mrs. C. J. Chapman; Methodist, Mrs. N. T. Whitaker; Free Baptist, Mrs. O. W. Pullam; Baptist, Mrs. E. P. Chase; Episcopal, Mrs. Asa Dalton; Swedenborgian, Mrs. Wm. B. Hayden.

At the close of the Rev. Mr. Bracq's eloquent address upon the McAll Mission work in France he gave an interesting sketch of the distinguished Carnot family. This was an especial treat to the many present, not only from the general interest in this family, but also from the pleasure of having the paper read in the French language. The great Carnot was first spoken of and a rapid sketch of his life from his birth in 1753 and his death in 1823 was given. A clear analysis of his character followed, and showing his courage in boldly maintaining his convictions of duty in the face of the events of the French revolution and during the life of Napoleon, as well as his stand on the execution of Louis XVIII. Then followed a sketch of the life of Lazan Hippolyte Carnot, the second famous man of that name, and lastly of the Carnot, President of the French Republic. Mr. Bracq traced a parallel between the three Carnots and the German emperors, their contemporaries. After a summary of the deeds, public and private, of these men, Mr. Bracq, in closing, referred to the Carnot family circle, and to the combination that caused his election; in spite of the fact that the outlook for the Republic seems at times somewhat dismal, still he felt sure that even should the Monarchists gain the upper hand for a time it would be but for a short time, for he believed that the Republic was to help France in perpetuating liberty of thought, and that it was the government for the people and of the people, and must in time prevail.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. St. John Smith died yesterday afternoon. Mr. James Hopkins Smith sailed from Liverpool for home on Wednesday last.

E. A. Bailey and wife of Winthrop are at the Preble

Miss Jessie Couthoui the elocutionist is at the Falmouth.

At a meeting of the directors of the Cambridge, Mass., Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening the general secretary of the association, Mr. W. A. Magee, tendered his resignation which was accepted. Mr. Magee has accepted a call to become state secretary of the Iowa Y. M. C. A. The directors after accepting Mr. Magee's resignation voted to extend a call to Mr. A. H. Whitford of Rockland, Me., to fill the vacancy.

Mr. Frederick A. Shaw of Maine is one of the rising young sculptors now at work in Italy. A correspondent writing from Rome says he will leave for Paris and become a pupil of Falquire's school of sculpture this spring. Shaw now has upon his slate two portrait reliefs, one of a young lady of Boston, Miss Charlotte Gage, whose beauty has greatly helped the artist to accomplish an exquisite bit of work, and the other of Miss Howitz of Baltimore.—Boston Traveller.

The Governor Robie.

The first attempt was made yesterday morning to float the stranded ship Governor Robie. The pumps, which have been kept busy up to Tuesday night, did great work and the hold of the vessel, in which there was four feet or more of water, was pumped perfectly dry. About 9 o'clock yesterday morning the topsails of the ship were set for the purpose of heeling her to starboard, but although there was a fresh south breeze blowing, it could not be seen that the ship changed in the least from the upright position in which she has remained since she struck the rocks a week ago. The four tugs, Confidence, Elsie, Sprague and Storm King, then made fast to the ship and attempted to free her from the rocks, but in spite of the combined efforts of their powerful engines, the ship remained fast, and after two or three attempts the tugs were cast off and the efforts discontinued for that tide.

It is generally supposed that the cargo has been nearly all discharged, but such is not the case. The wreckers broke down through the cargo to the hold, in order to get a chance to work the pumps, but between decks a large portion of the vessel's freight still remains undischarged. After the morning's attempt to float the ship had proved unsuccessful, the crew resumed work upon the cargo in order to further lighten the ship. The fact that the pumps succeeded in pumping the hold perfectly dry shows one of two things; either the vessel is not much stove in, or else there is some sharp rock under her which tightly fills the hole which was made as she struck. Many think that the latter is the case, and that a big rock has got such a hold in the planking of the ship that she cannot be freed until lightened and floated over the rock.

The diver claims that there is 14 feet of water at low tide within a rod of where the ship is now caught.

The tides are on the increase as the moon nears the full, and the wreckers are still confident that the ship will be saved, unless very bad weather is experienced within the next few days.

The ledge upon which the ship struck makes out steep from the shore, and she went on with all sails set and a brisk, fair wind. Another attempt to free the vessel was made on the evening tide but was also unsuccessful.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

TWELFTH STOCKBRIDGE.

There was the usual large attendance at the twelfth Stockbridge entertainment last night, the attractions being Miss Jessie Couthoui, the reciter, the Ruggles Street Quartette, and Miss Grace Hall, the violinist, with Mr. Harvey Murray, accompanist. The singing by the Quartette was marked by the same features that made them so popular at their first appearance in Portland several seasons ago, and not only were they vigorously encored, but Messrs. Cook and Romele were recalled after their solos. Miss Grace Hall played with much taste and feeling. Her execution was good, and in all the varied points that tend to make an artist she showed good training.

Miss Couthoui It is always a pleasure to listen to. Last night was her tenth appearance in four and a half years. Many of the young reciters can, by observation of Miss Couthoui, see what are the requisites for a public declaimer. She has an excellent figure, a fine, expressive face, speaking eyes, dresses with taste, is graceful and lady-like in her stage presence and gestures, and possesses a rich, deep voice, well trained in its modulations. Her recital of "The Dream of Eugene Aram" was, of itself, a very strong and effective piece of work. She made everybody laugh with the story of the Widow and the Drummer. Her other selections were well received. She was presented with an elegant basket of flowers.

WEBER CLUB CONCERT.

The Weber Club concert will be given at Haydn Hall this evening. The club has worked faithfully for the past year under Mr. Kotzscmar's baton, and the results of their training will be heard on this occasion. KATE CLAXTON.

Speaking of Miss Claxton and her new play, which will be presented at Portland Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, an exchange says: "The World Against Her" is the story of a faithful wife's nobility and fortitude through a series of domestic calamities caused primarily by the stupidity of a too-busy husband, and incidentally assisted by a rejected lover of the good wife. The play is full of action; all the incidents are stirring, if improbable; the language is vigorous, if simple; some of the character sketches are vivid, and every climax is ingeniously contrived and thoroughly effective. Miss Claxton's well known methods found congenial expression in the painful misery of the wife. Here and there was a trace of the gait and manners of Louise, the blind girl of 'The Two Orphans,' but on the whole Miss Claxton was successful, and certainly she had no cause to complain of her treatment by the audience, which was frequently moved to enthusiastic approval. In the support a finished piece of character acting was contributed by Mr. Palmer Collins, Mr. W. Payson Mackaye, son of Steele Mackaye; Miss Esther Lyon and Mr. Arthur H. Forrest are also to be credited with good work."

The sale of seats will begin today.
